Against Single Tax

Amendment

MOBERLY, Mo., Oct. 21, 1912. We understand that it has been circulated in some places that the firm of J. S. Bowers & Son is supporting the supposed single tax amendment to the constitution. This is a mistake. We have never and will never sign petition for the proposed tax, and offer a liberal reward to anyone advising us the name of the party who started this report. This is a great injustice to us, as we have always been found right in such questions. We are opposed to this amendment, for two reasons:

First: Because it seeks to place the whole burden of government on one class of prop-

Second. It removes the present constitutional limitation, as to the rate of taxation.

Our position on the subject of taxation is now and always has been to place the burden of taxation upon all classes of property so that it may rest as lightly as possible upon any one class. We stand now on this subject where we always have stood "equal rights to all and special privileges to none." Respectfully.
